

Here's what happens...

As Jesus prepares to send out his disciples, he comforts them by saying that God takes care of sparrows and God loves us even more than sparrows. God knows how many hairs are on our heads!

Bible Point:

God cares about our details,
so we care about others.

"For the word of the Lord holds true, and we can trust everything he does" (Psalm 33:4).

Family Together Time

- Find a place to feed birds together. It could be your backyard, a park, or the beach.
- Grab some birdseed, dried fruit, nuts, seeds, or oat cereal so you can feed the birds. (Bread, although a popular choice for feeding birds, is not good for them in large quantities, so avoid bread—especially white bread.)
- As you feed the birds together, talk about how God cares for them.
- Also share how God has shown his care for your family.

Talk About This...

- Would you rather be a peacock or an eagle? Why?
